BUFFALO.

The Late Railroad Accident

Buffalo, Dec. 20

The papers are still filled with the particulars of the fatal accident. Seven bodies have been taken from here by friends but twenty are still beyond all recognition. The bodies of Jasper and Eunice Fuller were recognized this morning. The last two were only married last Thursday at Tonawanda. R. B. Griggs of Jackson, Michigan was identified last night. A. D.

Kisher died at Anghel's last night.

It seems pretty certain that the cause of the accident was the breaking of a wheel on the last car. It is thought the majority of the burnt cars were not killed by the collision when it fell and struck the ice. There were fourteen cars recovered from the car twenty three in a condition to be recognized and twenty one so charred as to be unrecognizable. Two more of the dead have been recognized. W. W.

Townsend and J. Alexander Martin, both of Erie by a LAFAYETTE CABLE.

London, Dec. 20

The Times has a long and detailed account of the accident, and is devoted to describing the of the United States and the plans of the

of the railway.

Paris, Dec. 20

The Morning Post publishes an interesting account of the CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20

Mr. Howard presented a petition of citizens putting forth that the pension law make provision for all who have served in the regular army and all who have supported the Union defence, of the country being equally meritorious, they ask an amendment to the pension laws, and an act for the relief of disabled soldiers, to be applied to soldiers honorably discharged, disabled from whatever cause, whether regular or volunteers. He asked for the petition the favorable attention of the Committee on Pensions, to which it was referred.

Message.

Mr. Price introduced a resolution relating the obligation on the part of a subject to obey the laws and support the government and for true faith and allegiance thereto presupposing that an obligation on the part of the government to protect and defend the subject whether native or adopted, at home or abroad, in all his rights of life, liberty and property, assuring that the government of Great Britain, with apparent injustice, deprived American citizens of one of these rights, in the case of William J. Nazie, whose petition, stating the facts in his case, is attached to the resolution, and who is now in prison, to be referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs to give the subject their immediate attention and to report to the House such measures as are best calculated to accomplish the object of the resolution. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Coburn introduced a bill increasing the pay of jurors in United States Courts to five dollars. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The Speaker presented a communication from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue in relation to the amount received from distilled spirits for the several years since 1862. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Cleveland presented the petition of Daniel

D. North, of New York, who is now in prison, praying that the American Minister to England be directed to demand the immediate release of him, and a full and complete investigation of the charges against him. The bill was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the bill to amend the act to provide for the

of the United States and the plans of the

of the railway.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

TITUSVILLE, Dec. 21, 1887.

There is considerable business in the Petroleum market, but the volume of business is exceedingly light.

There appears to be but little disposition to operate on the part of either buyers or sellers and besides from lack of operations speculation of all kinds has about died out.

The prices remain very steady. The inquiry was not very active. At points along the Oil Creek Railroad office were made at $1.50 and $1.75 delivered. At Petroleum Centers office were made by Pittsburgh and Cleveland at $1.50 delivered. The sales were as follows:

800 barrels at Petroleum Center, for the Oil Creek market, on private terms, 800 barrels on Oil Creek for the Boston and New York markets, 100 barrels on the part of the Oil Creek Railroad office, 100 barrels on
